Legion Will Sponsor Crime Prevention Talk By Chi. Investigator

Joseph F. Fiedoral, an officer in the crime prevention bureau in Chicago, will speak at a public meeting sponsored by the Antioch American Legion at the Legion Home at 8 p. m. Thursday, Jan. 21.

Fiedoral will have for his subject "Dope," and will describe methods his bureau pursues in crime prevention.

The Chicago investigator came to the Crime Prevention bureau in Oct. 1949 after 18 years of investigative experience in the Maxwell Street Police station.

This district covered an area of 3.5 square miles and has a population of 70,000. Its cosmopolitan character is evidenced by the fact that 25 nationalities are represented in its population with 20 per cent of the total being colored.

Fiedoral's close association with the heterogeneous population combined with his knowledge of and ability to speak several foreign languages and the fact that the Maxwell Street district has long been a focal point for drug trafficking and addiction, gave him first-hand knowledge of the narcotic menace.

A Dale Carnegie graduate, he is today considered one of the foremost lecturers on the narcotic problem in Chicago, and is much in demand. This Dr. Harry A. Mizock, commander of the Antioch Legion learned when he attempted to obtain him for the Antioch speech.

Youth and adults alike are especially invited to this meeting, Cmdr. Mizock said.

Red Cross Will Conduct Home Nurse Course Jan. 20, 21, 22, 25, 26

The North Lake County Chapter, American Red Cross, will conduct a 30 hour training course for instructors in Home Nursing, Jan. 20, 21, 22, 25 and 26. Classes will be in session from 9 to 4, with an hour's intermission at noon.

They are privileged in having for a teacher, on a volunteer basis, Mrs. Howard S. Niblack, R. N., who has met rigid Red Cross qualifications for instructor training, and is one of four qualified instructor trainers in the entire state.

It is important that a prospective instructor have a high school education and a willingness to serve. After a personal interview with Mrs. Niblack, your plans for furthering the interest and need of this worthwhile program will be completed.

All groups and organizations are urged to select an individual to be trained as an instructor; also, individuals interested in teaching Home Nursing are urged to get in touch with the Chapter Headquarters, 133 Belvidere st., Waukegan, Ill., phone ON 2-4044, at once. If you cannot avail yourself of classes at this time, our plans are to have classes around the calendar, so let us have your name, address, and the course you are interested in.

It is hoped that as your personally selected instructor has finished her training you will have a group for her to train immediately. Your Home Nursing Committee at Red Cross will aid classes in obtaining necessary supplies and arranging for suitable places where these classes may be held. The committee is also interested in hearing from anyone who knows of additional available meeting places, or groups interested in Home Nursing in northern Lake County.

Willer to Address Local P. T. A. on Civil Defense

Richard W. Willer, Libertyville, Lake county director of civilian defense, will address the Antioch Parent-Teacher association at its regular meeting at 8 p. m. Monday on defense measures in times of crisis.

Because Antioch citizens have been accused of showing a general apathy to civilian defense whereas other villages are active, those in charge of the meeting are quite anxious that there be a good attendance.

Mrs. Jesse Sobey and her committee of fourth grade room mothers will have charge of refreshments.

County Slaps License On Pinball Machines; Will Raise $25,000

Antioch's license fee $15 in contrast to $200 in Waukegan

The Lake County Board of Supervisors has placed a $100 license fee on pinball machines and similar skill games, the ordinance goes into effect Feb. 1. Shuffleboards and bowling games will draw $25 licenses.

Antioch's license fee is but $15 in contrast to $200 in Waukegan and $125 in North Chicago.

Revenue from the various game machines is expected to place an additional $25,000 a year in the county coffers and help make up the deficit that now exists. Penalties for operating without a license in the county will be $200.

Licensing of pinball machines became legal when the state legislature last spring passed legislation making the games skill contests rather than gambling devices and authorized counties and municipalities to license them.

Sequoits Crush Rams; Will Play Palatine Here Friday Evening

Freshmen, Sophomores and J-V's Beat Grayslake This Week

After routing the Grayslake Rams 51 to 26 there Friday night, Antioch High's Sequoits are preparing to take on the second division leader, Palatine Pirates here tomorrow evening.

The Pirates won from the Glenbrook Spartans last Friday evening, 68 to 49, and are pushing hard to get up into the first division of the northwest conference.

Grant still leads the conference through their victory over the Bensenville Bisons, but they have yet to meet the Sequoits who have a record of 10 more points aggressively and 12 more points defensively than the Bulldogs. Antioch will play Grant Jan. 22, but it will be on the small court at Ingleside.

Dick Scott's boys had little trouble knocking over Grayslake. Antioch posted a 12-2 score in the first quarter; 24-11 at the half; and 42-16 at the end of the third quarter.

The rebounding of Fred Clarke, Ben Floyd, and Larry Lass was outstanding. Clarke was the top scorer this time with 15 points, where as Mike Haviland settled for 12 and Floyd for 10.

T-V Dangers Become Much Argued Subject At Methodist Fellowship

So much interest was generated into the discussion of the subject "T-V, Its Dangers and Possibilities," at last week's meeting of the High School Youth Fellowship at the Methodist church that the subject will be continued Sunday evening at 6 p. m.

The topic was introduced last week by Robert Cain and Keith Gordon.

The worship Sunday evening will be led by Mary Lu Bushing.

A new service of worship is being used which stresses participation by the group in hymn, responses, prayer and creed. The evening will end with a period of recreation.

An invitation has been extended to all youth in the community not actively participating in a church youth group to attend.

Intermediate Youth Fellowship for pupils of the 6th, 7th and 8th grades of school, will meet at 3:30 p. m. with worship led by Betsy Frazier and Richard Behrens. The program "Americans All," will be presented in a skit about "Papi" a Puerto Rican boy in New York City. A period of interesting recreation is being planned.

Masons to See Movies Of Atomic Bomb Blasts

Movies of the atomic bomb will be shown at the regular stated meeting of Sequoit Lodge No. 827 A. F. and A. M. at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 19, in the Masonic temple.

The movies will show the actual army tests in the Pacific with results and reactions under and above the sea after an atom bomb has exploded. The film will also show what a person should do to preserve his life in case of an atomic bomb explosion.

"Atomic bomb is the most feared and most destructive attack upon mankind which could happen any time, anywhere and every Mason should be interested in seeing this great film for the protection of his loved ones as well as for himself," said Bernard Guillaume, worshipful master.

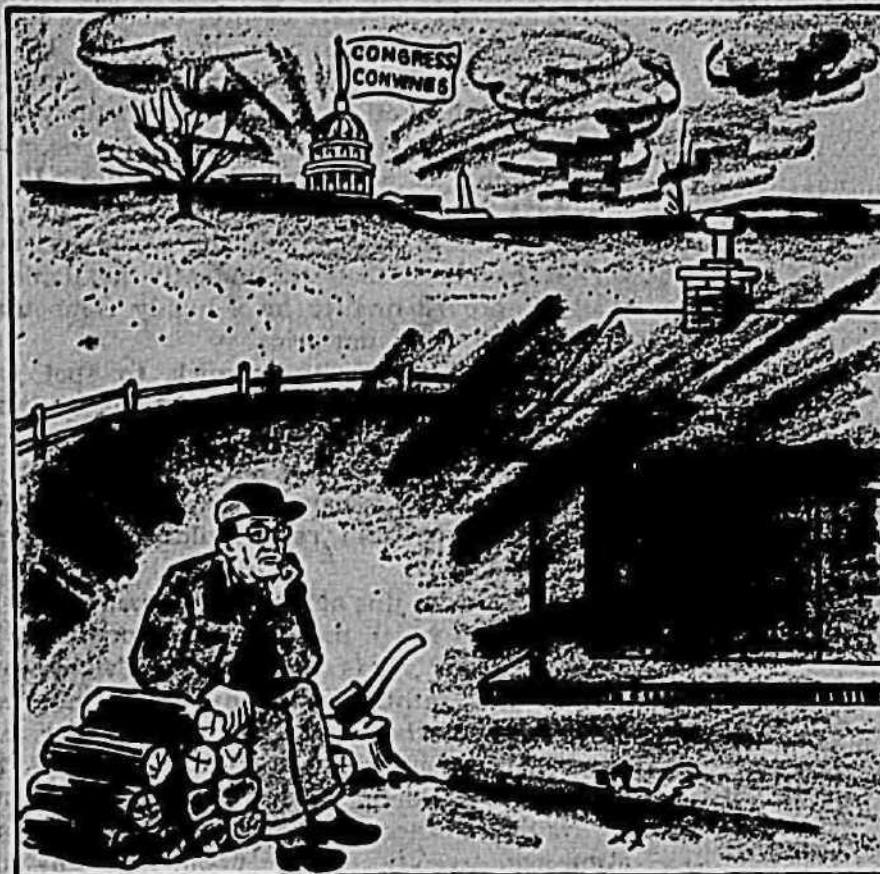

There will also be a beautiful film in color illustrating the history of the Shriners hospitals for crippled children which is well worth seeing. Charles Mapiethorpe of the entertainment committee will show the regular stated business meeting. All men with Masonic affiliation are welcome to attend this meeting.

Robert Pincombe and his committee will serve refreshments following the meeting.

Judge Jack Seeks Re-Election

He is the second to have held that office, Martin C. Decker being the first. He served from the time the court was established in 1922 until 1945. Jack, an attorney, was then chosen.

WHAT ABOUT THE FARMER

Grade School Assembly Devoted to Instruction On Road Safety Rules

An all-school assembly was held Tuesday at the Antioch Grade school at which safety was emphasized by all speakers.

The school band played several numbers as the various classes marched into the gymnasium, and accompanied the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. William Eckert of the first grade led the audience in the pledge of allegiance.

Supt. Richard Whitacre reviewed the rules of conduct and safety which have been adopted at the school, and introduced members of the Safety Patrol.

Walter I. Scott, police chief of Antioch spoke about safety on the streets of Antioch. Pupils must obey directions of the patrol boys and members of the police force when crossing streets, and must always walk bicycles across streets.

Harold Scheskie, from the Lake County Sheriff's office in Waukegan, then gave a very interesting and instructive talk on things to remember in order to avoid accidents, such as:

Walking across streets at intersections—not running.

If it is necessary to walk on the highway, always walk toward traffic on the left side of the road, and step off the pavement 3 or 4 feet when a car approaches. Also, walk in single file if there is more than one person walking.

Traffic from both directions must stop when a school bus stops on the highway. While waiting for a bus, children must stay off the road, and, as the bus approaches, should line up in an orderly fashion to get in. It would be very easy for an accident to occur if there was pushing and shoving in the line. Behavior in the bus is also very important—the bus driver has enough to do just driving the bus safely—without acting as disciplinarian for a few children who insist on raising a commotion.

Bicycles must follow the rules of the road—they must ride with traffic and get off the road when a motorist blows his horn. They must always stop at "stop" signs and children should walk their bikes across the road. Bikes on the highway are a terrific hazard and should not be used there unless absolutely necessary.

New Sign Ordered for Fire Station Building

The Antioch Fire Department and the Rescue Squad are sharing the expense of a new sign identifying their headquarters and station.

The sign will be placed on the Main street side of the building on the white space above the entrance door. The sign will be in red letters having an indirect lighting effect in making the letters stand out in bold relief.

Getchell Ill. Unable to Attend Meeting Here

Douglass Getchell was taken to the Veterans Administration Hospital at Downey a week ago Monday from his home in Grayslake and was unable to be present at last Thursday's meeting of the American Legion in Antioch, as planned.

Getchell, a past state commander, was to have given the address on the occasion of past commanders' night of the Antioch post. Quite a number of former commanders were present and spent the evening in a social manner.

Methodists to Conduct Visits Feb. 13 to 21

The Methodist church of Antioch will participate with other Methodist churches in the Chicago area in a week of visitation by laymen to invite those persons who are not active members of any Christian congregation to participate with them in the life of the church.

Special services of worship and preaching will be held during the week of Feb. 13 to 21 to which the community is invited. This week will afford an opportunity for growth in the understanding of and commitment to this "life in love," according to those in charge of the evangelistic mission.

Fire at Loon Lake Causes $500 Loss

A fire in the home of Hedwig Block, Loon lake, late last Thursday afternoon, caused an estimated $500 in damage. The fire was started by a small artificial Christmas tree, used as a centerpiece on a table. The fire spread to the table cloth and finally to the drapes in the room, before Mrs. Block, who was in the kitchen discovered it.

The Antioch fire department was called and quickly extinguished the blaze.

The only other call during the week was a grass fire on the Farrin farm at Grass lake. The blaze was thought to have been started from a dump on the Ed. Smith place.

Grass Lake Passes 61c Educational Tax Increase on 4th Try

Vote Was 154 to 98 With 10 Spoiled Ballots For Record

Members of the Grass Lake Grade School board of education were greatly relieved Saturday evening when they learned that the district had approved the increase of the educational tax from 40c to 61c on the $100 assessed valuation. The vote was 154 to 98 with 10 spoiled ballots.

It was the fourth time the district was called upon to consider the increase, the proposal having been defeated in the three previous elections.

The first two proposals called for an increase from 40c to 71c, but when the request was turned down both times, the maximum was raised to 61c. This too, was turned down in the previous election, but members of the board asserted that a letter mailed by unidentified persons and giving an inaccurate picture of the situation, caused the defeat that time.

A meeting on the Wednesday night before Saturday afternoon referendum was credited with putting the proposal over. The board had County Superintendent W. C. Petty and his assistant William Thompson there to answer questions regarding the plight of the district financially.

Saturday's 252 votes were said to have been the largest number cast by the district.

The board through anticipation warrants had spent this year's tax money before school opened and is operating the school on warrants for next year's taxes. The new tax rate will not go on the books until next year, and it will be another year before the district can levy on them.

The Grass Lake school is operated in both the old and new buildings. The enrollment fluctuates around 100 pupils, but the pupils are so distributed that four teachers are needed.

Annual Meeting of Antioch Chamber is Very Well Attended

More than one hundred members and guests attended the first annual meeting of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, held at Smart's Country house Wednesday evening.

Past president Charles Cermak, Jr., acted as master of ceremonies for the affair and introduced the new officers for the coming year. Art Meyer, new president called on Ted Larson, a director, to present a gift to Cermak in gratitude for the fine work performed as president last year. After the introductions Cermak introduced L. A. "Tony" Amundsen, secretary of the Waukegan-North Chicago Chamber of Commerce, main speaker of the evening.

Amundsen spoke on the subject, "What You Can Do for Your Town," and his talk touched on projects worthy of consideration by the Chamber. Among these were participation in local government, promotion of tourist trade in the area, rural relations, safety, health, off-the-street parking, and trade area development. He said that all programs of the chamber must be constructive, and warned that "the day is long past when a Chamber can sell 'blue noses' or build up the community in a glorification of misrepresentation." He added that "there are no thrills or glory in this life of community action, and the only result is a self-satisfaction in having been useful to the community."

The new board of directors and officers plan a meeting sometime this week to plan a program for the organization during the year.

"No Scapegoat Available"

If you're one of the consumers who has been wondering why first-class steaks sell for $1.00 a pound or more in the butcher shops while live steers bring only about a quarter as much, some factual information which has recently become available should interest you.

First of all, only 30 pounds of the average 1,000 pound steer are the fancy steaks which bring the top prices. The average retail price for all the products from a U. S. Choice Grade steer of that weight was but 30 cents a pound on a recent date. And the heavy demand for the relatively small supply of fancy steaks has tended to hold prices up. Between November, 1951 and last October the price of these steaks declined 14 cents a pound, while the price of equally nutritious cuts such as ground beef and chuck roasts went down 22 cents.

If there is any profiteering in the meat business, it will naturally show up in the form of big profits. Time magazine looked into that a short time ago. It found that cattle feeders are lucky if they make a profit of 10 per cent and that many packers are earning much less than one cent of profit on each dollar of sales. The retailer's markup is around 16 per cent, of which a large part is absorbed by his overhead costs.

The Jacksonville Journal summed up the matter accurately when, in the course of a lengthy editorial on meat prices and their causes, it said, "There is no scapegoat available in the meat situation."

$30,000,000,000 Worth of Socialism

There is one way to make a really heavy cut in the cost of government without touching spending for national defense or any other necessary purpose. That is to turn thumbs-down on all proposals for putting the government further into commercial business—and to start getting government out of the businesses it is now in. All in all, according to a survey made by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce, the taxpayers' investment in government business enterprises totals more than $30,000,000,000, an amount equal to the net worth of the 29 largest private American companies!

Moreover, despite praiseworthy recent efforts to halt the socialistic trend, government is becoming a bigger operator of business all the time. The case of electric power is notable. According to the Council, in that field alone "... at least $5,300,000,000 will be needed to complete projects already started as of last June 30 ... Numerous additional projects which would cost tens of billions of dollars, but for which no funds have been provided, have already been authorized by Congress or planned by Federal agencies."

Socialism dies hard—as witness the fight to have government undertake new power developments on the Snake River in Idaho, the Niagara River in New York, and elsewhere. In every case, private capital is available for the work, and regulated private utility companies are ready to go ahead. They will pay many millions in taxes for that privilege, and they will sell the power at rates judged fair by state and federal commissions. Here is an outstanding example of how huge sums of our tax money can be saved—and how, at the same time, we can strengthen the free system which has made our country great and strong.

Best Cure

Bread may be the staff of life, but in twentieth century America gasoline runs it a close second. Wide dispersal of suburban residential areas and industrial decentralization have made the motor vehicle a family essential. Gasoline has become a necessity that is consumed in astronomical quantities. Under the stimulant of what one oil company executive has called "the greatest free market the world has ever known," it has been made abundantly available in constantly improved quality by a highly competitive oil industry at a minimum price.

Governmental authorities, quick to spot new sources of tax revenue, began levying taxes on gasoline many years ago, primarily for road building purposes. Here, as elsewhere, the power to tax has been abused. Gasoline taxes have become excessive and have been diverted from road building to general government purposes.

The best cure for this abuse lies in amendments to state constitutions which make it mandatory that the funds be used for roads exclusively. Twenty-four states now have ratified constitutional amendments of this nature and other states have them under consideration. These amendments help to preserve the maximum benefits of the free market and the competitive system, neither of which could exist without our American society based upon freedom—and which abuse of the taxing power can destroy as surely as the sun rises and sets.

American Shipping Saved England

You may never have seen a shipyard. You may live a thousand miles from the nearest one. But you have a personal interest in shipbuilding and in the American Merchant Marine.

Does this seem an exaggeration? Then listen to something said by Senator Butler of Maryland, who recently made a survey of shipbuilding in Europe. He was told by high authorities abroad that England would have collapsed in World War II had it not been for the capacity of American shipyards. And, grim as the world picture may be today, it would be infinitely more grim had that happened.

President Eisenhower, whose knowledge of military and defense matters is certainly second to none, has described the merchant marine as our Fourth Arm of Defense, which puts it in the same category as the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Senator Butler also said that he favors government financial assistance to the American shipbuilding industry, but dislikes the term "subsidy" in this case. The reason for that assistance is basic—the cost of building ships in this country, as well as the cost of operating them under the American flag, is far greater than in the other maritime nations.

The Lake Villa Fire department's plan to finance their new photography branch by funds received from the sale of waste paper, got under way on Saturday, Jan. 9, and anyone who wishes to dispose of old papers and magazines may do so by contacting Russ Nickerson, 6-3342 or Effinger's hardware store, 6-3611 or get in touch with any member of the fire department.

Those who wish, may deliver their papers to the fire barn on Grand avenue, but only on Thursday evenings from 7 to 9:30 p. m. It is the belief of the fire department that, by photographing fires, their cause and the extent of damages involved, better ways and means of protection can be found, thus benefiting the entire fire district.

Your Income Tax

By Ernest J. Sauber
Dist. Director of Internal Revenue
MINORS AS TAXPAYERS

Every citizen or resident of the United States—whether an adult or a minor—who had $600.00 of gross income in 1953 must file a Federal income tax return. A great deal is known about adults and their filing, but not very much is written about the requirements of minors.

Minors are separate taxpayers, subject to the same filing requirements and entitled to the same exemptions, deductions and credits as other taxpayers. For Federal income tax purposes, the minor's earnings, no matter what the source, are for his own tax purposes regardless of the State laws of the State in which he resides.

Minors are required to file Federal income tax returns if their gross income was $600.00 or more during the year. The minor is taxable on his wages and on income received from property he owns or funds that may be held in trust for him. He should file a return and pay his tax even though the parents may have received the money.

Minors are persons under age. Of course, the age differs in the different states. Generally speaking, persons who are not old enough to vote are considered minors. In Illinois, a minor is a person who has not attained his twenty-first birthday, if male, or eighteenth birthday, if female.

If a minor files a return, he is entitled to an exemption of $800 for himself. This is his personal, individual exemption. A minor who has gross income of less than $600, whose wages have been subject to withholding, is entitled to a refund. To obtain this refund, he should file the yellow Form 1040A, attach the W-2 wage slip and send completed form to the District Director's office, 22 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois, whereupon, after processing, the refund will be sent to the minor taxpayer.

Spierings Leave on Two Month Tour of Europe, Africa, Asia

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spiering of Rte. 45 left by plane Sunday for Europe by way of New York, landing in Paris on Monday. Their destination is India and they are making this trip a second honeymoon.

A travel bureau prepared the itinerary for the Spierings after they had indicated the places they would like to see abroad.

"The only bad part about it all was the taking of immunity shots," said Mrs. Spiering. They were for smallpox, yellow fever, cholera, typhus, and typhoid.

From Paris and Versailles, they will go to Madrid, Spain, tomorrow, and will get to see a bull fight Sunday. Their route will be in succession to Tangiers, Spanish Morocco, Africa, Casablanca, and Algiers, and Tunis, in Africa; Cairo, Egypt; Bombay, Delhi, Agra, and Jaipur, India; Colombo, Ceylon; Basra, Iran; Bagdad, Iraq; Beirut, Lebanon; Istanbul, Turkey; Athens, Delphi, Greece; Rome, Italy; Naples, Sorrento, Italy; and London, England. They will return to New York, Mar. 8.

Card of Thanks

I would like to express my thanks and appreciation to my many friends and to the V. F. W. Auxiliary, Dr. Kopriva, and the Rescue squad for the many acts of kindness, for gifts and cards sent me while in the hospital and after returning home.

Raymond Edwards.

Lake-Cook Farm Supply Co. to Meet January 16

Alfred D. Smith, general manager of the Lake-Cook Farm Supply Company announced today that the 28th annual meeting would be held on Jan. 16 in the township high school, Wauconda, Ill.

Management stated that reports detailing all operations of the Company during the past twelve months would be made. He indicated there would be much of vital interest in these reports to the membership.

"During the past year," stated the management, "we have witnessed a steady decline in the prices which farmers get for their products, and conversely," he continued, "we have also witnessed a continual rise in the cost of those things which farmers buy."

It is hoped that every member and patron will attend the annual meeting and add his best thinking and his counsel to the ways and means in which he can best be served by his company during this period of adjustment in the farm price structure. The presence and interest of all is needed in charting the Company's course of action for the coming year.

In extending a cordial invitation to all Farm Bureau member patrons to attend the annual meeting, Mr. Smith stated that all plans were practically completed.

The principal speaker will be Mr. DeWitt Brown, Business Service manager of Illinois Farm Supply company, a capable and forceful speaker, who through experience is well qualified to discuss items which are of particular interest to farmers and Lake-Cook Farm Supply company patrons.

A delicious lunch prepared by employees will be served to all who attend the meeting.

Lake-Cook Farm Supply company is owned and controlled by the farmers of Lake and Cook counties. The company, which has been in operation for the past 26 years, distributes petroleum products, feed, plant feeds and seeds. It offers a "direct-to-the-farm" service to all farmers living in Lake and Cook counties.

Mrs. June Hunter Thompson left Antioch January 3 to enter Knox college at Galesburg, where she will study for her degree in nursing.

In announcing his candidacy Murphy said:

"My platform has been formed by myself due to the needs of the times. I favor:

1. Repeal of the Personal Property Tax—not Amendments—but Repeal! (Due to its many inequities and abuses, and the fact that the public could certainly stand a cancellation of one of the vicious taxes).

2. A positive curbing of the powers of State Bureaus, and a closer scrutiny of career-men in those bureaus for pinkish tendencies.

3. I stand positive against any increase or additional taxes that the state might wish to impose (such as state income tax).

4. I will ponder well before voting for ANY new law—I feel that every General Assembly for the past fifty years have placed too many laws on our books.

5. I stand against the state passing laws controlling our municipal governments and adding to our municipal tax burdens.

6. I favor sharp re-adjustment of the now vicious dram shop act.

7. I favor an equalizing of automobile licenses from the low of $6.50 to $17.50.

8. I want and insist on more economy in Government which could be realized by the elimination of many overlapping services and offices.

These objectives listed above are my pet opinions and ambitions. Beyond this if elected, I will try to keep in close contact with the people and governing bodies of each county, so as to be truly representative of the whole district and give honest and intelligent representation to Labor, Farm, Business and Industry. I invite your help and support in my campaign to be your public servant."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor—

After reading the Christmas anecdote in the Antioch News Dec. 17th, under the heading, Toy Planos or Guns, Joy or Depression, Christmas Musings, I began to meditate, ponder and to wonder how it were made possible that WE, the people of the U. S. A., with our great resources were placed in such a position that today we live in suspense and fear of, we know not what.

The founders of our nation gave us many warnings, to be eternally vigilant.

Looking backwards I made comparison with the time and period of my youth since childhood, which began in the year 1866 in Chicago, a few years after the end of the war of the Rebellion, when we had nothing to fear but the fear of retribution for our own personal sins and misdeeds.

To-day, the whole world is rocked to the core, no set standards of morals or values, ideological visions, confusions galore, many nations and rulers are now wiped off of the maps of the earth, many people forced to trek from their places of birth.

This trend to the line of my thought: an impression made on my mind by an incident that happened at the empty toy piano counter after Pearl Harbor.

Shoppers who had decided to purchase a toy piano were much disappointed to see the empty counter, and informed why they were placed in storage.

A number were insistent in demanding one be sold from storage and were told it was impossible. An elderly lady in particular, who had placed her heart on presenting her granddaughter with one was most insistent. She was told that each instrument was stamped, as required by international trades agreements "Made in Japan" and furthermore she was asked "Madam do you know that there is a war on?" She replied, "Yes, I do, war is terrible." Then, spreading her hands over the empty counter, continued, "But this is ridiculous; war is not made on the culture of a people, war is made against the system and the administration of government."

Yours truly
Adolph Gill

Exactly where does your money go, after you spend it

Dear Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public

We believe that the people who live and work in this community spend their money in this community.

In order to prove it we are paying our employees with $55000 silver dollars this Friday, January 15.

They all bear the same date, 1921

We ask that you do not hoard these silver dollars, spend them in Antioch and tell the person you give them to where you received them.

Mr. Merchant, please do not deposit these in the bank.... pay your employees or your bills with them.

Where does your money go after you spend it?

Watch for these silver dollars and find out.

Help Your Child Face Surgery Suggests the Illinois State Medical Society Committee

Let us suppose your child has been carefully examined and it has been found that an operation is necessary. Have you given thought to the need for preparing him psychologically for the ordeal? Some parents forget and while the operation is a success from the physical standpoint, inadequate preparation of the youngster may result in some emotional distress, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society observes in HEALTH TALK.

These psychological scars of a greater or lesser degree may remain for a varying length of time. They may be indicated by various sorts of disturbances, fears or anxieties, which may last for weeks, months or even throughout childhood into adult life.

It is natural for all of us to be anxious about an operation, but we adults have many reassurances—confidence in the surgeon, familiarity with technical skills and safeguards, and acquaintance with many persons who have undergone similar procedures.

Child Has Little Assurance
A young child has little reassurance. An operation presents a great threat to him. He doesn't have the knowledge or the resources of the adult. He dreads the operation as a new and painful experience done in a strange place by strange people with mysterious instruments. He has secret fears which may result in a lasting fear of doctors, dentists, nurses, darkness, strangers or unfamiliar places. That is why it is important for parents, and physicians as well, to recognize the possibility that these psychological reactions may occur and do everything to avoid them by properly preparing the child for the procedure.

How to accomplish this? First, the understanding parent gives consideration to the thoughts of a child facing an operation. All children have fears, real and imaginary.

When they face a supposed danger, they need the aid and encouragement of their parents, who are their main source of security. So start by dealing with your child kindly, fairly and honestly. Tell him he is going to have an operation. There may be any one of several reactions: he may appear unconcerned; he may be violently opposed to it and show it by pulling a temper tantrum. And he may be agreeable, even enthusiastic.

Explain Matters to Child
Thus, whatever the attitude, the wise parent knows there are many fears and doubts to be relieved. This can be accomplished by offering the child simple explanations, not once but several times, to help him understand and be reassured. Knowing what sort of an experience he is going to face—even one in which there is some pain—makes it more easily acceptable to him than having the situation thrust on him by surprise. And then the very act of taking your child into your confidence, treating him with respect and consideration, usually brings out his more cooperative instinct. His questions of who, what, when and why should be answered simply and honestly. A deceived child will react more violently than the prepared child to the unavoidable amount of pain after an operation, because he feels that the people he most trusted and upon whom he depended have failed him. On the other hand a prepared child usually takes it in his stride and goes on to meet other experiences with added stability and maturity.

Don't Show Your Worries
Don't alarm the child by your own worries, fears or doubts; don't air your concern in his hearing. Do be honest with your child. Remember that a child who has been guided successfully through an operation by good medical and psychological preparation will gain an experience that will be of great value to him throughout his life.

Must Take Juvenile Offenders to County Or Circuit Court Now

Springfield, Ill.—Boys under 17 and girls under 18 years old arrested now must be taken by the arresting officer directly before the circuit or county court rather than before a justice of the peace or police magistrate, Attorney General Latham Castle held today in an official opinion.

This new procedure for downstate Illinois counties, Atty. Gen. Castle advised State's Attorney Harold D. Warren of LaSalle county, resulted from amendment by the 1953 General Assembly of Section 10 of the Neglected and Delinquent Children's Act. The new procedure applies to such juveniles who have been arrested for a crime, misdemeanor or violation of a municipal ordinance. Before the 1953 amendment, the procedure applied only in Cook county.

Gen. Castle's opinion stated, such a juvenile offender is taken before a justice of the peace or police magistrate, it becomes the duty of such justice of the peace or police magistrate to transfer the case to the circuit or county court.

"The language of the statute is clear and admits no exceptions,"

Attorney General Castle's opinion stated.

J. P.'s Collect Back Taxes
Lake County justices of the peace collected a total of $134,909.57 in delinquent 1951 taxes during the year, leaving a balance of $182,002.84 on the books. The money collected will be distributed and a new list for 1952 will be prepared.

Mrs. Herman Holbek underwent a major operation at Victory Memorial hospital Monday. Reports today are that her condition is improving.

CORRECT THESE ELECTRICAL HAZARDS IN YOUR HOME

For the safety of your household, make a thorough inspection of the electric fixtures in your home. Look for cords that run under rugs in walking areas, worn wires that can cause a short circuit and possibly fire. Watch for overloaded wall or ceiling outlets and dangling cords that children find fun to handle. Correcting these hazards will give you greater safety in your home.

What Is Magnetism?

A material such as iron is made up of a multitude of minute magnets, called magnetic domains. Ordinarily they are in random positions. The effect of one neutralizes that of another and they all cancel out. When the bar is placed in a magnetic field (produced, for example, by an electromagnet) these domains tend to line up and the bar is magnetized.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

The minimum age at which a person may hold a driver license in Illinois has been increased from 15 years to 16 years by the new drivers license law. (Section 14, 1, Drivers License Act.)

An exception to that requirement is for 14- and 15-year-olds who are enrolled in high school driver education programs, and they may receive only restricted instruction permits. (Section 16, b, Drivers License Act.) In addition, those young people may operate motor vehicles only when the adult instructor is seated beside them in the car.

Young people between 16 and 18 years old may obtain drivers licenses or instruction permits only with the written consent of the father, if he is available and has custody, otherwise the mother or guardian. At any time before the holder of such a license or permit becomes 18 years old, the parent or guardian can end the driving privileges simply by making a written request of the Secretary of State that the license or permit be cancelled. The law requires the Secretary of State to comply with the request. (Section 19, Drivers License Act.)
